Skidmore tells of legislators' inactivity

by GLORIA DAVIS

The lengthiest discussion at the last Antioch Grade School District's meeting was built around a report on computer education given by the district's superintendent, Dr. Donald Skidmore.

Skidmore recommended the program and the board gave it the go-ahead.

One of the first steps will be to "get the staff in gear," and have inservice meetings on the operation of the computers as they will relate to the school curriculum.

"The general conclusion drawn is that we owe it to our children to expose them to computer, language and, if possible, hands-on experience," reported Skidmore.

The board also approved the rental, for one year, Xerox 2400 machine for use at the upper grade school.

The board also heard that the school district's 1981 equalized assessed valuation (EAV) from Lake County is $107,393,961 or $199,039 less than was projected a year ago.

This means that the district is gaining $9.5 million in EAV which means less state aid and a continuing dependence upon local property tax for supporting local education.

Skidmore also reported on his attendance, along with Antioch High School Supt. Warren Polley, at the convention of the Illinois Assn. of School Administrators.

Skidmore said, "I talked to some of our legislators (motivated by his interest in the amount of state aids the school district will receive) and the one thing that stands out there is that no one is doing anything towards the balancing of the budget."

"The governmental bodies were characterized by inactivity," he said.

"The incumbents don't want to offend anyone and the lame ducks don't want to do anything that will hurt their party's chances in the upcoming election," he added.

"I guess the state government, as well as the one in Washington, comes to a grinding halt during the pre-election season," Skidmore said.

Lions honor Sheedlo, Manuel, Humphreys

The Antioch Lions 41st Athletic Banquet held May 24 was attended by over 250 senior athletes, cheerleaders, pom-pom, color guard, state qualifiers and their parents.

The athletes, coaches and sponsors were guests of the local club in which recognition was given to many of the athletes and their accomplishments.

Rich Falk, varsity coach at Northwestern University, was the guest speaker. The former All Big Ten and All American player stresses the importance of values and wise choices that young people must make in the next few years in order to live a full and meaningful life.

Charles Cermak Jr. acted as the master of ceremonies for the evening. First Vice President Joe Hunley welcomed the athletes and guests.

Senior Matt Stevens represented the athletes and gave the response to the welcome. Rev. Charles E. Miller, St. Stephen Lutheran Church, gave the invocation. Special thanks to the various athletes and teams were given by Supt. Warren Polley and Principal Arthur Blecke.

Recognition plaques were awarded to Coaches Roger Andrew and Roy Nelson by Ward Lear, athletic director, for their long and dedicated service to the school and athletic department.

Andrews had coached track and basketball for some 22 years, 20 as varsity basketball coach.

Nelson had coached golf and football for 24 years, 15 of which had been at the varsity football level. Nelson had stepped down as varsity coach some four years ago but continued in the underclass program.

Both coaches retired from coaching this year but are continuing their teaching at Antioch.

Special recognition was given to the individual state qualifiers: Marjorie Allen and Jill Larkin in tennis; George Bessette, Tad DeRousse, Dave Mannina, and Jeff Nieze in wrestling; Laura Hédien, Debbie Adams and Joanne Aguilar in track; and Dale Plechaty in track.

Hunley, with the assistance of Lion William Seemann, made the special awards for the most valuable.

Holtz resigns, takes parting shot at Dems

by GLORIA DAVIS

"My resignation will be on the desk of the Lake County Board Chairman Glenn Miller this morning," said County Board Member R.G. (Bud) Holtz Tuesday, June 1.

Holtz added that he had tied up all the loose ends of his job on the county board.

"There was a tremendous amount of people, especially local ones, that urged me not to resign. All of them said 'you have the right to stay in, we elected you.'"

Holtz added that a lady from Indian Point had called radio station WKRS and had the record "Stick To Your Man," dedicated to his cause.

"There was no conflict of interest," he added, "the whole thing was just a numbers game."

He said this in reference to the recent legislation changing the population requirement for having an assessor on the county board changed from counties under 100,000 to those under 300,000.

Holtz said that he had not talked to State's Atty. Fred Foreman personally but he was sure that some pressure had been applied at the county board chairman level by Foreman's office.

Foreman had officially notified Holtz that he was to resign his position on the county board because, according to state statute, his holding of that office, along with the office of Antioch Township assessor, was a conflict of interest.

Holtz's parting word, as a county board member, was to take a shot at another board member, John Balen, who walked out of a May 21 meeting declaring that there was not a quorum present because Holtz's vote would not count since Foreman had already asked for his resignation.

The meeting was being held to vote on the purchase of land in Libertyville to be used for forest preserve purposes.

It seems that Balen stuck his head back in the meeting and it was then declared a quorum and the vote was taken not to purchase the land.

Balen is still declaring the vote illegal because of Holtz's participation even though he had not resigned yet.

"Though they deny it, I maintain that Balen and the Waukegan Democrats keep acquiring land to be used for forest preserves and never develop it, thus stopping other people from doing so," Holtz said.

"Why pick up good farmland and call it a forest preserve," Holtz asked.

Cap and gown look of week

This is the time of the year that the "in" look at Antioch's schools is that of the cap and gown.

The eighth grade students of the elementary schools and the seniors at Antioch High School are bidding their fond farewell to their teachers and those hallowed halls during the last week in May and the first one of June.

Faith Evangelical Lutheran Grade School held its commencement ceremony for 11 graduates on Thursday, May 27.

St. Peter's 28 eighth graders received their diplomas at graduation exercises held in the church on Saturday, May 29.

On Friday, June 4, Emmons Grade School and Grass Lake Elementary School will hold commencement exercises. Emmons will graduate 30 eighth graders at 7 p.m. and Grass Lake will give out 25 diplomas at 7:30 p.m.

Finally, at 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, June 6, families and friends will attend the graduation of 406 Antioch High School seniors.

FLORENCE, FRED DITTMER

Florence and Fred Dittmer plan 50th anniversary party

The children and grandchildren of Florence and Fred Dittmer, will host a 50th wedding anniversary celebration at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Donna and Stu Olson, on Sunday, June 6. Antioch friends are invited to join the family beginning at 1 p.m. The family expresses their wish that there be no gifts, please.

Long-time residents of the Grass Lake area, the Dittmers have lived in Florida for the past 12 years. Fred had been a general contractor for many years in the Antioch area, leaving examples of his fine work in many local homes and businesses. Florence greeted many customers in the outlet shop at Pickard China for a number of years prior to their move. She had, also, been a ready volunteer in school work and Women's Club at St. Peter's and a 4-H leader when the children were younger.

The Dittmers moved from Evanston to the Antioch area in 1946 after many years as summer residents here. They converted and expanded the summer cottage into a year around home as their children entered Emmons and Grass Lake Schools — still one-room facilities and finally St. Peter's new school.

Fred has become a legend among the duck hunters on Grass Lake and is mentioned often when tales of great hunts are told. Of course, the number and size of his fish caught are still open to challenge by the younger set.

Florence, on the other hand, became known to family and friends for her recipes for preparing duck, goose, other wild game and fish and these were eventually published in a daily newspaper.

In addition to Donna, their children include Richard "Bud" and daughter-in-law, Pat, and their daughters Mary Ann and Wendy in Lake Villa; son, Fred and daughter-in-law, Carol, in Fort Meyer, Florida and children, Fred, III, Ralph, Trina and Lisa; son, Jerry and daughter-in-law, Pauline and children Dana, Chad and Brett in Stoddard, Wisconsin. Donna's family includes Greta in Madison, Wisconsin and Jon, at home.

A round table discussion followed on the plight of the Polish people and their attempts to keep their freedom. A display was placed in the Antioch Township Library to share this information with the community.

Refreshments were served to the guests and parents.

CANKER SORES

Q: Why do I get canker sores? What are they?

A. Most people get canker sores in their mouth from time to time. These sores can occur anywhere inside the mouth except the palate and gum tissues surrounding the necks of the teeth. Some people get them slightly; others get them in bunches.

These sores (known to dentists as aphthous ulcers) are caused by a bacterium that is present in everyone's mouth. Just why these germs cause sores in some mouths isn't known. Smokers almost never get them — evidently the smoke is noxious to germs as well as people.

If these sores are very painful, your dentist will treat them with caustic agents. This will relieve the pain, but they will heal more slowly. Sometimes eating yogurt with active cultures or taking lacto bacillus acidophilus tablets (available in health food stores) will speed healing.

Other conditions can cause sores too; if a sore persists longer than a week, see your dentist.

When I think about it 'Uncle Sam has taxitis!'

by GLORIA DAVIS

It's hard to understand why Uncle Sam has the money problems he does with all the gimmicks he uses to get more money out of the poor bedeviled taxpayer.

Now I don't have to tell you what happens when you don't have his paycheck ready for him by midnight of April 15. The interest charges begin to compute one minute past 12.

But I have yet to meet the person who has received an interest check from that good old boy in the striped trousers and tails, even though he has had the use of more of your money, for the last year, than was due him by tax laws.

I try not to think about the fact that almost half of my paycheck is gone before I cash it, the greatest hunk going to that bearded relative and his cohorts in Springfield, but when I take the meager remains to purchase life's little necessities and pay additional taxes, with money that has already been taxed, I begin to feel like one of the serfs under King John of England being hounded by the Sheriff of Nottingham.

In October, the federal government came up with a new tax collection gimmick in connection with student loans that seems a bit unfair to me.

It seems that, before the student receives the cash he is borrowing for school expenses, a five percent "origination fee" is deducted.

The federal government used to pick this up but now it's taken off the top by the feds just like the tax on race track or Vegas winnings is deducted by the Internal Revenue boys before you get your loot.

Here's the rub, when the loan is paid back, after the student is out of school, the interest is computed on the entire amount, ergo the kid will be paying interest on the taxes he has already paid.

For instance, if a student borrows $2,500, he will only receive $2,375, but he will pay interest on the total amount of the loan, $2,500, a "penalty" newly imposed on the kids for the delay of interest payments until after graduation.

I know that the student loan system has been greatly abused by kids that took the money and ran, not paying the loans back. Some are professional people who are raking in money hand over fist.

How these people have gotten away with owing this money mystifies me, whenever I've been late paying a bill I've always been sure that the villain with the cape, tall hat and curly mustache and the sheriff are just lurking around the corner waiting to repossess all my worldly possessions.

I've even taken to wearing a blond wig and large sunglasses when I skulk through town, sure that every two people that are in conversation are talking about my overdue gas bill.

Taxes per say are necessary to keep the country going but I think it's reached the stage where the well has run dry and Mr. Average Joe is getting down to the place where he can't spare an extra cent for one more tax, especially in lieu of the waste in government spending that is being paid for by his hard earned pennies.

History repeatedly equates overtaxation with rebellion, all the way from Caesar through the Boston Tea Party.

So, though I am not a violent person, one more tax on tax and pass the pitchfork please!

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Angie Maras tells me that Hawthorn Center will be having something special for all the model railroad buffs. As we know most of them have to buy their engineer's overalls in the men's department not the children's.

The model railroad exposition will be on Saturday and Sunday, June 12 and 13.

I hear that Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gallagher's son, Scott, was awarded a letter in football at Monmouth College, Monmouth, and Henry Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmidt, was on that school's tennis team.

Speaking of Antioch students, Debbie Lynn Boehm won a place on the dean's list at Illinois State University, Normal. Good job, Debbie!

Among the Antioch scholars that are now in possession of their sheepskins are Wayne P. Cramer, who got his degree in business administration and economics at Carthage College, Kenosha, and Nancy S. Gardner, who took her's in international business from the same college.

Robert Martin now holds a degree in humanities, arts and social sciences from Utah State University.

On June 4, at 2 and 4 p.m., old Annie Mae will be at the gym of the Antioch Upper Grade School with bells on, hoping to get a ride on the elephant like Dixie Sparks did last year, when they preview some of the great circus acts to be seen at the Franzen Bros. Circus on June 8, sponsored by the Chamber.

I have to get my circus ticket early because I hear they're cheaper than if you buy them at the gate.

The ceremony held at the Antioch VFW Hall on North Ave., on Memorial Day, dedicating the new flagpole, donated by the Sequoit Post 4551 Women's Auxiliary, was most impressive.

There's nothing like good old patriotism to get the heart beating double time!

The flag flying from the new pole was donated by Bernita Johnson in her husband's memory.

Letter To Editor

DEALING LOCALLY PAYOFF

Editor:

I am writing this letter in support of dealing with Antioch business people.

Last October I retired as pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Kewanee. The people in our previous congregations joined the people in Kewanee in giving us a retirement gift of a trip to the Netherlands, England and Scotland.

We were very uniformed as to how to plan such a trip. In December, our son-in-law took us to a travel agency on State St. in Chicago. We began to talk and plan. Very soon we realized that this arrangement would not work as we were too far apart.

We went to the Corbin Travel Agency and began to plan with Becky Christianson. She was very helpful and as a result, we have just returned from the dream of a lifetime trip to the Netherlands, England and Scotland.

All the arrangements were wonderful and everything worked out fine. We are grateful to Becky and the Corbin Agency for helping us have a wonderful trip. We recommend dealing with our local business people.

Bulldogs oust Sequoits, win first regional, 5-3

The hopes of the Antioch Sequoit varsity baseball team of going downstate were dashed at the regional level on Friday, May 28, when Waukegan East beat them 5 to 3.

Antioch got two of their runs in the fourth inning, when a base hit by Derek Olson drove in Chuck Payne who was on base after hitting a single and stealing a base.

Mike Schueneman took a base on a single and Tom Adams' fielder's choice brought him home.

The Sequoits other run came in the seventh when a triple hit by Steve Sheedlo, that turned into a double when he was out at third, brought Less Zitkus in.

Antioch recorded three runs, eight hits and one error and Waukegan East had five runs, six hits and two errors.

At the 1982 season's end, Antioch had a 15-7 overall record.

Coach Tom Baba expressed optimism for the '83 season saying, "With 11 juniors on the team and only seven seniors and all the good sophomores coming up, we should have a pretty respectable team next year."

Ostergaard wins again

Antioch drivers continue to dominate the scene at the Kenosha County Speedway this season.

Drivers from Antioch have won all four sportsmen features this year.

On Sunday, May 30, Chuck Ostergaard won his second 20 lap feature. Roy Morrison came in second. Earlier he set a 10 lap heat race record.

HUMAN SERVICES TO MEET

The Lake County Human Services Council will hold its annual meeting on Wednesday, June 9, at the Green Bay Shipping Co., Sheraton-Waukegan Inn, 200 N. Green Bay Rd., Waukegan. Social hour is at 11:30 a.m., with luncheon following at noon. The cost is $7.25.

THE Entertainer

June 5 opening set for 'Cat'

The much-awaited opening of Tennessee Williams' "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" will take place this Saturday night, June 5, at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main St. in Antioch.

Following evening performances are set for Friday and Saturday nights, June 11, 12, 18 and 19. Curtain time for these evening shows is 8:30 p.m.

A matinee performance is also scheduled for Sunday afternoon, June 13. Increasingly popular in recent years, PM&L's Sunday matinee, for which curtain time will be 2:30 p.m., is an especially good opportunity for families and other large groups to see the play together.

If you are thinking of seeing the matinee, you are especially well-advised to make your reservations early.

Barbara D. Miller, director of the dinner theater shows at Andre's in Richmond, directs the PM&L production of "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof." Her cast features three performers from Fox Lake — Gerry and Mickey Mandel, who play "Big Daddy" and "Big Mama," and Carole Mallowney, who has recently joined the cast as their daughter-in-law, "Sister Woman" Mae.

Other principal players are Colleen Jordon of Crystal Lake, as Maggie the cat; Larry Grant, Elgin, as her husband Brick; and Harry Hausman of Antioch will appear as the Reverend Tooker. Other supporting players are Mike Giebelhaus, Lisa de Benedetto, Angel Cox, John Lindgren, Mike Galdine, Paul Biel, and Katrina Meyer, all of Antioch.

A bluntly frank tale of avarice and mendacity on a dying southern plantation, "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" is strong stuff. It is high drama in the best sense of the term, a fitting final entry in PM&L's current Season 21.

To see the play, be sure to call (312) 395-3055 for your reservations, and to check in at the PM&L box office at least 15 minutes before curtain time of the afternoon or evening you plan to enjoy this unusual and dramatic offering.

On Cue to stage 'Bell, Book, Candle'

On Cue's next production at the Country House Restaurant is John van Druten's greatest comedy success "Bell Book and Candle," a wonderfully suave and impish fantasy, according to Director Lou Jones.

The talented cast includes: Lyn Kessie, Richmond; Tim Holt, Round Lake; Bruce Stamm, Antioch; Ann Marie Cina, McHenry; Don Crop, Mundelein; and the infamous cat Pyewacket played by Aki.

On Cue Productions is presenting its performances starting on Friday, June 18, followed by Saturday evening and Sunday matinee performances.

This entertainment will run for five consecutive weekends ending Sunday, July 18.

Dinner begins at 6 p.m., on Fridays and Saturdays, with show time at 7:45 p.m. Sunday matinee dinners begin at 1 p.m. with show time at 2:45 p.m.

For advance reservations and additional information call the Country House Restaurant at (312) 395-4211.

'Wilderness' auditions set

Auditions for PM&L's Antioch Theatre Festival production for "Ah, Wilderness!" have been announced. Tryout dates for Eugene O'Neill's only comedy are: Sunday through Tuesday, June 6 through 8, from 7:30 until 10 p.m., each evening at the PM&L Theatre at 877 Main St. in Antioch.

The play will be the second of two shows that will comprise the Antioch Theatre Festival. The first show being "HMS Pinafore" being produced by the Fool's Players. "Ah, Wilderness!" will be directed by Tom Hausman and you may call him at (312) 395-7489.

'CAT' COMES TO TOWN — PM&L will open its production of "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof," on Saturday, May 29. Shown in rehearsal are, left, Colleen Jordon, who plays Maggie the Cat and Larry Grant, who plays Brick.

Faces In The Crowd ... Antioch Little League

Tigers lead American, Orioles top National

The Tigers and the Orioles lead the two Antioch Little Leagues.

On Monday, May 24, the Tigers took the Dodgers, 5 to 4, as Tiger pitcher Mike Bablo retired the last nine Dodger batters in a row.

Also on Monday, the Cubs took the Cardinals, 10 to 7. Cub pitcher Matt Smith went the six inning distance to win the game.

On Tuesday, May 25, the Orioles swamped the Yankees with John Malicki slamming a three-run homer. Malicki drove in a total of six runs and Patrick Cote was four for four.

Also on Tuesday, the Giants edged the Astros, 7 to 6.

On Thursday, May 27, the Dodgers killed the Cardinals, winning 16 to 2.

The other game scheduled for that day, the Cubs against the Tigers, was rained out and played Saturday morning, May 29. The Tigers' Jamie Stancil was winning pitcher as the cats ate the bears, 6 to 4, coming from behind in the last inning to score five runs.

On Friday, May 28, the Yankees topped the Astros, with Yankee pitchers Dan Grote, and Gus Starcevic both pitching two scoreless innings. Starcevic also came through with a triple with bases loaded.

It was the Orioles over the Giants, 13 to 8, also on Friday.

Antioch Junior Girl Softball league got in two games last week. On Tuesday, May 25, the State Bank of Antioch buried Pickard China, 9 to 1. Backed by an excellent defense, rookie pitcher Ann Rhode did a good job for the State Bank.

Debby Henning hit a triple and Michelle Pavelski came through with a double.

In Tuesday's other game, Thelen Sand and Gravel and Orchard Dental ran the scoreboard up with Orchard Dental almost doubling Thelen's hits, winning 23 to 11.

Jenny Morris and Jackie Domkowski each had three hits.

On Thursday, May 27, the game pitting Flo's Beauty Shop against Health Construction was called because of rain.
